The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the "SickKids MyHealth Passport" form. The form is titled "Congenital Heart Disease" and includes a "Name" field with a "Lastname" dropdown. Below this is a "Support Medical History" section with a list of conditions: "Congenital Heart Disease", "Hypertension", "Diabetes", "Asthma", "Allergies", "Stroke", "Heart Failure", "COPD", "Chronic Kidney Disease", "Chronic Pain", "Chronic Infection", "Chronic Mental Health Issues", "Chronic Substance Use", "Chronic Medication", "Chronic Illness", "Chronic Injury", "Chronic Disability", "Chronic Pain", "Chronic Infection", "Chronic Mental Health Issues", "Chronic Substance Use", "Chronic Medication", "Chronic Illness", "Chronic Injury", "Chronic Disability". There are several text input fields for providing details about the condition, including "If you have had any other health issues when you were a child or young person", "If you have had any other health issues when you were an adult", "If you have had any other health issues when you were pregnant or giving birth", and "If you have had any other health issues when you were in the hospital or ICU".

Would you like to create a wallet-size health passport in case of emergency? You can now use the SickKids MyHealth Passport to create a CHD-specific form with all of your pertinent health and contact information. Just click HERE and use the drop-down menu to select "Congenital heart disease" and then fill out the information and keep it in your wallet or purse.
